Architekturgeschichte I
Architektur – Theorie – Geschichte
Prof. Dr. Adria Daraban; Franziska Wilcken M.A.

The exercise “Diary of Architectural History” accompanies the lecture “Architectural History” and requires regular attendance and active participation. The focus of the exercise is the creation of a journal in which the contents of the lecture are continuously documented in the form of notes and further reflections. The final product is created at the end of the semester from the notes, excerpts, and supplementary revisions.

The diary collects notes, drawings, and other content from the entire semester and can delve deeper into specific aspects or self-selected topics. The goal is not only to reproduce the lecture material, but also to critically question it, examine it independently, summarize it, and analyze it. Both your own texts and images you have created yourself can be included in the journal. Through the regular documentation of lecture content, supplementary literature research, and individual observations, a lively journal is created that grows and develops throughout the semester.
